POLES TAKE THOUSANDS OF PRISONERS

WOMAN'S STORY HIT IN EUROPE

Denton Attorneys Reject Checks.
French and British Drifting Apart.

Deny Authenticity of Names on Paper Cashed by Mrs. Peete; Point Vital.
Her Whole Account of Slain Men's Vanishing Linked With Bank Dealings.

The first direct attack upon a vital point in the story told by Mrs. E. C. Peete of the circumstances surrounding the disappearance of J. C. Denton, murdered mining man, was made yesterday by attorneys representing his estate when they served notice on the Farmers and Merchants National Bank that they will refuse to recognize the validity of two checks cashed by Mrs. Peete and said by her to have been authorized by Denton.

This action was taken following a conference between Judge Avery, special administrator of Denton's estate, and Ralph M. Bledsoe, attorney for Judge Avery, and for Miss Frances A. Denton, the 17-year-old daughter of the wealthy mining man, whose body was found more than a week ago in a wooden crypt in the basement of his home at 875 South Catalina street.

While not directly charging forgery, the letter addressed to the bank marks the genuineness of the signatures on the two checks, says the administrator who expects the bank to credit Denton's account with the amount paid out on the checks.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 1.—A stone hewn from the bridge over the Marne at Chateau Thierry, where American troops halted the German drive in the summer of 1918, will be used as the cornerstone of the war memorial building which will house the national headquarters of the American Legion. It was announced today.

LOCK DOORS, REFUSE TO QUIT FLATS

Chicago Tenants Take Law in Own Hands; Clashes Mark Moving Day.

(BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER.)
CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Semiannual moving day in Chicago this year was a day of lawlessness and under gray skies and chilly winds. It was marked by a clash of the law of the land, the law of supply and demand and the necessity that knows no law.

Hundreds of tenants, despairing of finding a new habitation or of any legislation that will relieve their desperate plight, took the law into their own hands, refused to vacate and will fight to the last ditch for the right to have a roof over their heads.

They have formed an association and employed attorneys and locked all their doors.

However, there were about 800 families who engaged in the semi-annual hiegos from one habitation to another in many cases they found the flats they had rented still occupied, and when they turned back they discovered their successors to the former flat had already taken possession.

In addition to all the other discomforts, landlords refused to turn on any heat and there was a great rush of impatient citizens to the City Hall to enter complaints. Forty-four families are being held out of their homes by the lawless action of the former flat occupants, who refuse to put the turn on a big flat building because it was manufactured outside of Chicago.

GAVE ISLES TO JAPAN.

Blunder of Wilson is Exposed.

Vital Line of Defense in the Pacific Given to Tokio by President.

Makes Seizure of Philippines Possible; Defied Advice of Naval Board.

(BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—How President Wilson in the face of imperative warnings from his cabinet and the naval board, gave the Philippines to Japan at the Peace Conference, the Pacific island outpost, possession of which might decide a war between the United States and Japan, was revealed today.

It transpired that on the eve of the assembling of the Peace Conference at Paris the general board of the Navy, the highest authority on naval matters, had prepared a memorandum setting forth the menace to the American Pacific, a power which retained possession of the Ladrones, Caroline and Marshall groups of islands in the North Pacific which belonged to Germany prior to the war.

The memorandum pointed out that these islands cut across the line of communication between the United States and the Philippines, constitute a great naval base and the Philippines could be seized and occupied with impunity unless immediately secured by the United States.

The board recommended that the United States should immediately seize the islands and establish a naval base there, thus raising the question of violation of the terms of the League of Nations covenant under which Japan was given a mandate to govern the archipelago.

The Japanese Embassy was emphatically denied any violation of the terms of the League of Nations covenant in the "prevention of the establishment of fortifications, of military or naval bases, or of other establishments in the Pacific islands, or the training of the natives for other than police purposes and the defense of territory."

The provision is construed by some, however, as permitting fortifications for the defense of the islands, such as Japan might easily be expanded in time of war into a formidable ocean barrier.

IN EVENT OF WAR.
American naval authorities agreed that in the event of war between the two nations Japan would seize the Philippines, which we could not prevent unless a large part of our Navy were on the scene well ahead of time, and then trench herself behind the North Pacific islands, awaiting American attack, a prodigious undertaking for an American fleet of 400 ships, most of which are on the shores with no adequate base at hand.

The fact that Japan has been promised the islands by the secret treaty of 1917 with Great Britain and France was not deemed insuperable by American naval authorities, viewing the question from the standpoint of the vital interests of the United States. It was contended that in the bargaining at the peace table and in the diplomatic maneuvering behind the scenes the President would be able to command the award of the former German islands to the United States. Every effort was made to impress the President with the national necessity justifying him in shipping his course to achieve this object.

NAVAL BOARD'S VIEW.
Evidently realizing, however, that there was question of either the disposition or ability of the President to prevent Japan from securing possession of all the three groups of islands, the naval board specially stressed the duty of the United States to prevent Japan from doing so.

ROMANOFF GEMS SOLD IN BERLIN.

Illicit Traders Peddle Many Valuable Jewels of the Former Czar.

(BY CABLE-RECEIVED DISPATCH.)
BERLIN, Oct. 1.—A large quantity of jewelry has made its appearance in Berlin lately which is said to have belonged to the murdered Russian imperial family—and evidently sold, for some pieces still show the Romanoff crest.

Illicit traders have been disposing of these pieces, which consist of numerous pearls, single pearls, and pearl rings and earrings, at comparatively low prices.

"The illicit traders ask 150,000 to 200,000 marks for each string of pearls," one jeweler said. "The pearls are all pea size, the strings not tapering at the ends, but their colors are most beautiful. Evidently they are sorted, ornaments for imperial state costumes. Some pearl rings, though not in modern mountings, are extremely valuable, the pearls being large and flawless."

Storm Warnings Are Ordered Out in North States.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—All Washington and Oregon weather stations were ordered tonight to fly storm warnings, in view of severe gales of 30 and 40 miles per hour, the United States Weather Bureau here announced.

The barometer at these points was reported below 29 and the wind at Northland, at the mouth of the Columbia River, was said to have attained a velocity of sixty miles an hour.

The gales, which tonight were from the south, with the forecast that they would reach the coast before morning, were said to be the worst yet known in the Pacific Northwest.

The forecast was that the storm would continue tonight and tomorrow and that it would be accompanied by rain over Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

MACHINE GUNS, LIGHT AND HEAVY ARTILLERY CAPTURED FROM REDS

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
RIGA, Oct. 1.—Military news from the Russian-Polish and Polish-Lithuanian fighting fronts is entirely overshadowing the Peace Conference.

Messages received by the Polish delegation say that virtually all of the fourth Bolshevik army has been captured in an encircling movement by the Poles and that all the staff was taken, except the commanding general and the Chief of Staff.

Prisoners to the number of 26,650 were made, while 426 machine guns, 166 light field guns and twenty-six heavy field guns were captured.

WOMEN VISIT HARDING. Prohibition is Broached for First Time Since Acceptance Address.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
MARION (O.), Oct. 1.—Senator Harding today described enforcement of law as a fundamental of social progress, regardless of the private opinions of executive officials, and declared particularly that "we must all condemn without qualification the failure to enforce prohibition."

A Federal department of public health officials here employed women closed their doors to permit attendance by women.

The visitors marched to the Harding home in martial order with banners playing and with standards bearing the names of numerous cities, following in column the banners of local employees' organizations. They crowded the lawn overflowing. At the end of the speech women factory workers joined the marchers with women doctors in costly furs and tailored gowns in a scramble to shake the nominee's hand.

One feature of the procession was a pageant in which twenty-one girls of foreign ancestry marched in their native costumes in social harmony.

Franklin K. Lane Ill; is Forced to Give Up Business

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the Interior, has been forced to give up business temporarily because of ill health, it was learned today.

It was said at the office of the oil company of which he is vice-president that, approaching a physical breakdown after seven years of public life, he had been ordered by his physicians to leave his desk two weeks ago. He went to Katonah, N. Y., returning here yesterday on a special train for a complete rest. His condition, it was said, was not serious.

SENATOR BORAH SULKS. Party Leaders, However, Do Not Seem Worried; Johnson Gets No Word.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Party leaders of Republican national headquarters tonight scouted the idea that Senator Borah of Indiana has quit the campaign, as reported on the strength of a letter in which he is said to have asked that no further speaking engagements be made for him.

"No letter has been received here which indicates that Senator Borah intends to quit," an official of the Republican National Committee said. "Several days ago, we did have a letter from the Senator asking that no more engagements be made for him at present. We understood this to mean that he had made engagements of his own, according to his custom. Senator Borah has been handling his own itineraries and not working under our supervision. There is no occasion for surprise that he should make such a request."

It was pointed out that Senator Borah has three engagements in Connecticut next week. These have not been cancelled, it was said.

NEW HAS NO WORD.
(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—"I have received no word from Senator Borah that he would not carry out his plans for a speaking campaign in the interest of the Republican ticket," Senator Harry S. New, chairman of the Republican National Committee, declared today after reading dispatches, while Raymond Beinecke, western regional director for the Republican National Committee, declared there had been no change in Senator Johnson's speaking program.

"In my opinion, and this I say from his public utterances, Senator Harding has arranged the League of Nations," said Senator Johnson.

Mr. Benjamin's announcement was issued in denial of a statement that there might be minor changes in Senator Johnson's proposed speaking dates.

BLAMED FOR REPRISALS.

Allegations Made Against England by Griffith, Founder of Sinn Fein.

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
DUBLIN, Oct. 1.—Sensational charges that the government itself was responsible for reprisals in Ireland and that a certain number of Sinn Fein leaders were marked for assassination were made today by Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein organization, who said he was first on the list of intended victims.

Mr. Griffith, to support his statements, exhibited to American, English and continental newspapermen, to whom he made a long statement preferring the charges, alleged official documents secured by Sinn Fein agents. Among these was an official permit alleged to have been signed by Gen. Sir Nevill Macready, military commander of Ireland, in which he was alleged to have been released prematurely from prison on a ticket of leave signed by Ian MacPherson, chief secretary for Ireland, permitting him to move about freely in Ireland, unhampered by police surveillance, in the role as Mr. Griffith asserted, of government spy.

Although acknowledged to almost daily sensations, Dublin, was greatly excited over the revelations of Mr. Griffith, which were published in an afternoon paper.

LIABLE TO ARREST.
It is pointed out that, if the documents are authentic, Mr. Griffith is liable to arrest under the Defense of the Realm Act and under the new Restoration of Order Act, for having them in his possession and particularly a military order relating to a movement of troops not yet carried out. It is said that every newspaper correspondent is liable to arrest.

The general officer commanding-in-chief has, therefore, agreed to suspend the proposal for a winter concentration until December 1, by which time it is hoped that the Royal Irish Constabulary will have received sufficient reinforcements to enable them to take over control of the area from which it is desired to withdraw military detachments.

The general officer commanding directs that you will at once discuss the matter with the divisional commissioners concerned. Such moves of cavalry as can be carried out in the matter will be put into effect as soon as possible.

Democratic doctrines were preached by Gov. Cox to ten Oklahoma audiences which roared their approval. Cheering crowds, waving banners, brass band parades and jammed auditoriums marked the day, closing here tonight with a torchlight parade, fireworks and a rousing meal.

Accompanying the candidate were three special cars of Oklahoma.

With the League predominant, Gov. Cox's address was replete with discussions of agricultural questions of special local interest in the cotton, wheat, and oil belts through which he traveled.

NEW FORM OF ATTACK.

A new form of attack was encountered by the Governor at Chandler, from which a sheet of telegrams signed by various names and bearing the name of the League of Nations, were sent him. He asked his audience about the telegrams, mostly questions on the League. Some were declared "tricks of politicians."

"They won't fight on the level," he said. "But I'm going to continue fighting on the level and I'm going to give them a good licking."

A new charge regarding alleged slanders of Chairman Hays of the Republican National Committee was made by the Governor. He charged that thousands and thousands of Republican agents were posing as Democrats and killing persons whom they met that they wanted no more Democratic rule.

BIG BUSINESS PAYS.

Gov. Cox also predicted that thousands of that kind of scoundrels traveling all over the United States, and big business is paying the bill."

Referring to the telegrams he received, the Governor said that asking a question on intricate international law, it developed, purported to have been sent by a "shower."

"It is one of the outgrowths of the Napoleonic mind of Will Hays," he said. "That certain groups are going to ask certain gentlemen for a showdown."

Senator Harding was pictured by Gov. Cox as a reactionary candidate, and on the League of Nations issue as standing in "No Man's Land."

"He pretended 'America First,'" the Governor said, "really 'Safety First.' The biggest issue of history is absent from his speeches. He may be fooling Taft, but I'm going to see that he don't fool the American people."

Article X was compared by the Governor to the Eighth Commandment. "This commandment," he said, "has been written not only in the code of personal morals, but in the public law of every land. What is more, it is backed up by courts and police power and common sense."

"The League would extend the Eighth Commandment to cover international relations, by making territorial burglary not only immoral, but illegal."

Many questions came from his audience. One at Oklahoma City referred to the Japanese-California land controversy, and asked whether the League would take the dispute from American jurisdiction. He replied that both the League and the Hitchcock reservations provided that American internal affairs should not be involved.

Tomorrow, the final day of the Governor's western tour, which began September 1, will take him through Missouri. The Governor will reach Dayton Sunday.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 1.—Gov. Cox, in his trip through Oklahoma today, discussed the League of Nations and farm problems with his audience. He answered a number of questions concerning provisions of the League and soldier bonuses.

The Governor made two speeches here today. In an open-air meeting at El Reno, where a large crowd assembled on the campus of a public school, Gov. Cox asserted that the League was designed to prohibit the white slave and opium traffic. He had been asked if the League did not legalize such traffic.

WOMEN VOTERS
VISIT HARDING.

WIRE TO RYAN.

Tonight Senator Harding made public a telegram to Edward A. Ryan of Washington, who was arrested at the Senator's Baltimore meeting Monday night after he had asked the nominee whether he had agreed with Senator Johnson in his position to scrap the League of Nations. Mr. Harding expressed regret that there had been an arrest, and declared that he did not control any Senator's attitude, but was trying to harmonize the views of American leadership that we shall be able to adopt the same attitude as the League of Nations.

In his speech the candidate said he was sure "the mothers and wives of America do not wish to give their sons and husbands for sacrifice at the call of an extra-constitutional body like the council of the Paris League."

ON ARTICLE X.

"You have heard so much about Article X," said the candidate, "that I wish to read it to you. You have also heard something about the League of Nations, but I do not want to read it to you. I am a pretty sympathetic man myself, but I want to tell you women of America, that I would rather risk the heart of the world than destroy the soul of the United States."

I have a notion that most of you can understand the English language. You can understand Article X. That is the heart of the League of Nations. It is the mortgage of American resources, man power and wealth—putting them at the command of a council of foreign powers, sitting around a table at the capitol of the world in Geneva. And if anybody is in doubt about my position, understand me now: I am not in favor of that covenant."

"NOTE THE CONTRACT."

"You note the contract. America is not a welfarer. If you do go in and don't keep your promises, you have done the moral equivalent of all time. So I say to you women of America, let us in good conscience play our part, not only by example, but by helping the cause of humanity and forwarding civilization, as we have done from the beginning of our republic, but let us hold to ourselves the right to determine what America's obligation is to the rest of the world."

Among those present were Mrs. Leonard Wood, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Mrs. William C. Sproule, Mrs. James Garfield, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, Mrs. Maude Parkwood, Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart and Mrs. Clifford Pinchot. A delegation of negro women was headed by Mrs. Letha C. Fleming, Republican director of the colored people.

Senator Harding's telegram to Mr. Ryan was sent in reply to one from the latter asking for an answer to the question which led to his arrest.

RYAN TELEGRAM.

"The following question: 'Do you agree with Senator Johnson in his position to scrap the League of Nations?' Your reply was as follows: 'If I were in favor of a one-man power in the republic, then I would be able myself to answer your question."

"Apparently recognizing that this was no answer, you invited me to the platform. While proceeding there in response to your invitation I was arrested and thrown into prison at the instance of your friends. I will not tamely submit to this indignity. On behalf of myself and the American public I demand that you answer this pertinent question."

SENATOR'S REPLY.

Senator Harding's reply follows: "Your lettergram addressed to me from Washington was my first information that your interrogation at the Baltimore meeting had led to your arrest. I greatly regret that such a result followed your courteous interruption. I am sorry for the indignity you have suffered. Indeed, I invited you to the stage, so I might get your inquiry clearly known what I was answering, and answer frankly."

I do not venture to criticize the police officials who were responsible for order in a great meeting, but I do speak for myself and insist that I sought to treat you with becoming courtesy. I am as ready as you to recognize the rights of every citizen of the Republic, but I do not agree that you may demand an answer to a question, as you elect to frame it, any more than I may demand your support."

I do not control any Senator's attitude on the League of Nations any more than I control yours. I do not seek to control any man's mind, but I do seek to harmonize the views of American leadership that we shall adopt a policy in our foreign relations as a democratic republic. I have given public addresses I have given private statements of my own suggestions for our future international policy, and you may read your answer therein."

"Attorney for the special administrator of the estate of J. C. Denton."

Although Milton Carlson, handwriting expert retained by Judge Avery, refused last night to issue a statement of his findings, it was learned that he reported to Judge Avery that both checks were without doubt forged. He is understood also to have stated that the writing was done with the object of making it appear that the writer had been injured.

The two dates on the checks in question are both believed to be after the date on which Denton was killed. Statements from a half a dozen witnesses now in the possession of the District Attorney's office, are to the effect that the last time anyone saw Denton alive was June 2. There is some doubt as to this date, also, as most of the witnesses saw him on the last date on which they saw Denton.

Mrs. Peete's statement to Judge Avery and to the others who were interested in finding Denton, who he disappeared was that she saw him as late as the middle of July, and in one instance, in a letter written to Denton's business associate in September, she said that certain checks dated about that time and been turned over to her by Denton.

AFTER ANALYSIS.

The sending of the letter to the bank last night, the District Attorney's office, Judge Avery said.

"In a conversation with me during the period when it was supposed Mr. Denton was alive, although he had disappeared," the judge said.

Mrs. Peete told me she had met him at the Lankershim Hotel and that his arm was injured. She said she guided his hand as he wrote a check for $150 to her order and she cashed it, turning over the money to him. She made no reference to the second check. Neither did she say that she herself had written the check at his request and on his authority. She also has told other persons the same thing about guiding his hand while he himself signed the check.

This would exclude the theory that anyone besides Mr. Denton signed his name with his authority and would make the issue in any case brought against the bank for collection very plain."

WHAT BANKER SAYS.

Victor H. Rosetti, vice-president of the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank, said last night:

Mr. Blodgett's letter came to us today, but no action was taken so far because our attorney, to whom this matter must be referred, is out of the city. We shall take the question up some time tomorrow and decide just what action we shall take."

Mr. Rosetti pointed out, however, that the only person who can set up a claim of forgery is the person whose name is said to be forged.

The story that a bank messenger was sent to the Denton house to check up Mrs. Peete's statement about an injury to Denton's arm, and that the messenger returned with the information that he saw at the Catalina-street house a man with his arm in a sling, was denied by Mr. Rosetti.

A view of the fact that we shall have to take some sort of action in this case, I cannot go into details at this time, but I can state that no messenger was sent to the Denton house and that he did not report to anyone in authority that he saw a man with his arm in a sling at the house," Mr. Rosetti said.

JONES AT DENVER.

Official dispatches from Denver last night stated that Detective Jones of Los Angeles is there under an assumed name and that he told Denver police officials he intended to leave for Los Angeles with Mrs. Peete late last night. Another report had it that Miss Hal Bland, a woman investigator from the District Attorney's office here, was with Mr. Jones and would accompany Mrs. Peete to California. Mr. Jones is quoted as having told the Denver police he did not have any warrant for Mrs. Peete, but that he was there to get her story.

When asked about the facts in this regard, Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. Dornan said last night that he could not comment on the matter. He refused to discuss it in any way.

lies in the fact that Mrs. Peete, in statements to the bank's officials and later to Judge Avery, Detective Jones and others, is reported to have said that the irregularity of the signatures on the checks was due to an injury to Denton's arm, which later resulted in complete loss of the limb. This account of the accident to the arm is closely bound up with Mrs. Peete's story of the disappearance of Denton. The body discovered in the basement grave, and now absolutely believed by the investigators, was that of a man with both arms intact and so far as the autopsy physicians can determine shows no evidence of any injury.

Mr. Blodgett's letter to the bank was as follows:

October 1, 1920.

Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank.

Fourth and Main streets.

Gentlemen:

Referring to the account in your bank of J. C. Denton, I beg to request on behalf of Russ Avery, the special administrator of the estate of J. C. Denton, that you count with the amount of the items represented by two certain promissory notes, dated June 2, 1920, and June 2, 1920, for $500 and $450, respectively, payable to Mrs. R. C. Jones, and heretofore on said date charged to the account of J. C. Denton.

Please consider this a formal representation of the authenticity of said promissory notes as a demand upon you for the payment to said special administrator of the said sum of $950.

Very respectfully,

[Signed] HUGH M. BLODGET.

Attorney for the special administrator of the estate of J. C. Denton.

 he could get in touch with her, and said he would not know what his future plans will be until he talked that phase of the situation over with the woman.
 That Mrs. Peete has not left Denver in the opinion of persons close to her is the opinion of persons close to her. Mrs. Peete, her husband, was seen in the downtown shopping district Wednesday morning. Mrs. Peete left the residence of Mrs. Ida M. Gregory Tuesday, but Chief Armstrong said that she left Denver.
 On advice from Los Angeles, police detectives were called upon today to help locate Mrs. W. C. Peete, divorced wife of the plaintiff who is alleged to have called on the trail in which Denver's law was found.
 George Foster Waterman, formerly said police officials today that he was the owner of a chauffeur badge found in bloody clothing near the Denver home in Los Angeles. He said the badge was given him by Charles David Brown and that he must have thrown it away with some old clothing. He denied knowing Denver.
 Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. Doran said he refused to comment on a Denver dispatch stating Detective Jones was in that city and would, in all probability, bring Mrs. Peete here as soon as he could arrange to make the trip. He refused to discuss the case in any way.
 "The only thing you can say for me is that I cannot talk about this case," he said.
 "Will you admit that you and Jones and Miss Hland in Colorado for the purpose of bringing Mrs. Peete to Los Angeles?"
 "I cannot discuss this at the present time," was the second reply.
 Chief Jones disappeared from Los Angeles Monday. He was reported to have gone to San Francisco. Miss Hland also was released from the District Attorney's office a few days ago. Mr. Doran at no time has been willing to say where Chief Jones was, other than to admit that he was out of town.

CHINA'S ACT IS PUZZLING.

Won't Cancel Russian Rights,
America is Told.

Debt Payment to Soviet Ends
for the Present.

Situation is Discussed by Great Powers.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Chinese Foreign Office officials have declared to American Minister Crane at Peking, it has been learned here, that the Chinese government has no intention of canceling Russian rights in China. Inquiries were made by Mr. Crane concerning the motives of China, after the issuance by the President of a mandate withdrawing any recognition of the Russian legation and consulate in China and stopping payments to Russian diplomatic representatives of the Boxer indemnity.
 Mr. Crane was assured that the respective provinces of China would devise proper means for taking over and protecting the Russian interests and that China would become trustee for us in the matter of Russian privileges and concessions in China. However, no written assurance to this effect has been given to the United States, although it is expected that a written commitment will be requested before the conversations between Mr. Crane and the Peking Foreign Office are concluded.
GOOD FAITH CERTAIN.
 This government, it is known, is confident of China's good faith, and the conversations in progress are not impugning China's motives. As the friend of China the American government desires China to pursue a wise course and to do nothing that might damage her credit and prestige.
 It is not believed here that China's action was taken on account of any representations made to it by the soviet government of Russia, although it is admitted that these representations—the last of which were transmitted to the Peking Foreign Office last April, were never answered—might have had some influence with the Chinese officials. China had been paying the Boxer indemnity to the Russian Legation and is believed here to have had some sound reason for stopping payments. This government does not question China's right to stop such payments if China questioned the validity of the receipts which the legation gave it.
LENIN'S THREAT.
 It is recalled that Lenin, the Bolshevik Premier, did recently say that China was one great field for conquest, and, while not ready for Bolshevism, was ready for Bolshevism. This declaration has attracted international attention, and governments being inclined to view it in the light of premeditated design upon China and a serious threat to attempt to create chaos in China.
 There has been brought to light nothing, however, it is learned authoritatively, that indicates China is not displaying complete good faith with the powers. It is also known that former Chinese officials of views on the Chinese situation are taking place between the powers, the United States, among them, and that the Chinese government has agreed to a meeting to discuss the questions involved are held to be extremely delicate and it is desired to avoid insulting China.
 At the present time, it is asserted in authoritative quarters, there is a serious information to the government that the Moscow representatives to have anything to do with China's closing of the Russian Legation.

OCEAN SHORE SYSTEM WANTS TO DISSOLVE.

ROAD A LOSING PROPOSITION,
STATE RAILROAD COMMISSION IS TOLD.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Representatives of the Ocean Shore Railroad appeared before the State Railroad Commission today, presenting arguments in support of its petition to make permanent the abandonment of the line between San Francisco and Santa Cruz. It was stated that although there is an additional yearly return of $140,000 in sight, there would be a deficit of $350,000. Recently the company stopped operations after its workers struck for an increased wage, and petitioned the commission for the right to dispose of the system because of virtual insolvency.
 J. A. Walden, a former consulting engineer for the system, said that additional freight orders, approximating 10,000 tons a year could be obtained. F. F. Thomas, attorney for the road, said this would be but a "drop in the bucket."
 The petition was taken under advisement after a hearing. Haase, a representative of the Downtown Association, notified the commission that efforts were being made to have the city take over that part of the system within its borders. The Southern Pacific Company also was considering adding the line to its system, Haase said.

NOVEMBER BALLOT.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—A writ of mandate compelling Secretary of State Jordan to place the name of James S. Edwards of Redlands on the November ballot as the Prohibition party candidate for United States Senator, was handed down by the State Supreme Court here today.

The court announced that it would file a formal decision on Edwards' case later.
 Edwards was named by the State Central Committee of the Prohibition party as Senatorial candidate after A. J. Wallace of Los Angeles had failed of nomination at the August primary. Wallace, a Republican candidate, was given a Prohibition "write in vote."
 Secretary Jordan had held that because the party had filed no nominating petition for any Senatorial candidate and that the "write in" candidate had failed to qualify, Edwards had no place on the ballot. The court upheld the committee's contention that it had a right to fill in ballot vacancies.

PULLMAN

The Pullman Company Does Not Benefit

The purpose of this announcement is to correct a general misunderstanding that The Pullman Company benefits by the surcharge of 50% recently imposed on Pullman passengers.

The Pullman Company receives no part of this surcharge.

The surcharge was imposed solely to increase the passenger revenue of the railroads.

It simply requires an additional service of The Pullman Company for which it receives no compensation whatsoever.

MINE RESCUERS QUIT ATTEMPT.

Men Caught in Workings Are Given Up for Lost.

Overcome and Drowned, is Belief of Officials.

Tragedy Started With Fire in Shaft Yesterday.

(BY A. P. MARY WISE.)
STOCKTON, Oct. 1.—Reports received here tonight from Copperopolis, the scene of the mine disaster, were to the effect that the rescue party, which was sent to the mine yesterday, had not been able to locate the two missing men. The rescue party, which was sent to the mine yesterday, had not been able to locate the two missing men. The rescue party, which was sent to the mine yesterday, had not been able to locate the two missing men.

pumps. The supposition is that they were overcome with gas and drowned. Mr. Pickard, in charge of the rescue party, ordered his men to return above ground as there was nothing further they could do with the equipment they had. No further attempt at rescuing the two missing men will be made until the arrival of the car of the United States Bureau of Mines at Virginia City, Nev., now reported on its way.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—A crew of five men, fully equipped with rescue apparatus, was preparing to descend into the Copperopolis mine at Copperopolis early this afternoon to locate Ann Kingsbury and Reginald Lamson, miners, who were trapped by a fire in the mine yesterday, the State Industrial Accident Commission here announced. Each rescuer wore an oxygen outfit, which will enable him to resist the gases for two hours. One of the trapped men was believed to be in a slump below the 1200-foot level. The tragedy followed a fire which started in the head frame of an old vertical shaft yesterday. Embers dropped into the shaft, igniting the timber set, eventually causing the collapse of the shaft workings.

tombled in the depths of the main shaft of the Calaveras Copper Company's mine since yesterday. Little hope is held out for the rescue of Reginald Lamson and Ann Kingsbury, employees of the company.

Lamson entered the underground workings following a fire to open the air valves to drive out poisonous gases, resulting in Kingsbury and A. L. Riggs, underground foreman, went down to find him.

COX RIDES JADED HORSE—TAFT.

Former President Ridicules Governor's "Conspiracy of Silence" Charge Against the Press—Says Aspersions Come from a Disgruntled Candidate.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.
Mr. Cox is a journalist, and something of an expert in the distribution of news. When, therefore, he attacks the Associated Press for failing to give to the American public a fair account of his speeches, the crowds and the other phases of his long speaking tour, his testimony would be weighty, but for the fact that he is a deeply interested witness. When one is running for the Presidency, his judgment upon matters connected with the campaign is not trustworthy. Men, sensible and judicial under other circumstances, will reach unsound conclusions, as Presidential candidates.

Mr. Cox has been most contemptuous of a front-porch campaign. He has preferred, he says, to go to the people in their homes. Exercising this preference, he must be content with its usual limitations. He seeks by personal touch and address to influence large masses of people. He can not at the same time, keep the whole American people interested in his progress and what he says.

His first meetings were described in great detail, and his speeches were reported in full. As he went on he repeated himself; he must do so. He wishes to sum up before every audience the reasons for voting for him. Few men can vary greatly from day to day the substance or even the form and vocabulary of the arguments in their own behalf.

FIRST PRINCIPLE.
The first principle of newspaper reporting requires a minimizing of the space given to such repetitions. Unless there is something epochal in his repetitions, unless the demonstration is exceptional, the Associated Press cannot be expected continuously to describe the audiences or their approval of what is said, because every Presidential candidate can draw crowds of his friends and evoke approval from them.

The normal benefit with which the candidate must be satisfied from such a campaign is the local effect of his personality and the influence of his words in the city and State where he speaks.

ASKS TOO MUCH.
He asks too much from an impartial professional newsgatherer when he insists that the details of such meetings be described in significance, should be repeated on every day of their occurrence. Still more unreasonable is he in demanding that his opponents answer in continued answers to his well-aimed attacks and charges with the result of giving them further currency.

RIDING A JADED HORSE.
But more than this is true in Mr. Cox's case. He is riding a jaded horse. He has a mount which has reached the end of the trail. He cannot win with the Wilson administration, and he cannot win without it. He takes up his predecessor's cause, and he declines to press the League of Nations on his audience and is confronted by the fact that Mr. Wilson's administration is the only possible League of the United States can enter. He is driven to the maintenance of Article X as a sine qua non of the League, and this defeats any League.

He cannot escape the burden of Mr. Wilson's personality, which has not only tired the country, but his own party as well. He brings forth a ridiculous mass on the subject of campaign contributions. One practical tendency of this agitation is to dry up much-needed sources of supply from wealthy Democrats, depriving of his success and glory, and leaving an excuse to avoid spending money in a lost cause.

ADVANTAGES SHOWN.
The advantages of the front-porch campaign are becoming apparent, as they were in the Harrison and the McKinley campaigns. In the struggle of 1916, it offers Mr. Harding the opportunity to give out something new and short each day, which is sure publicity for its new value. It enables him to prepare a careful discussion of a particular issue, to have it published in full and to deliver it to a great audience so large and whose reception is so enthusiastic, as to call for legitimate comment. In a few trips and speeches of this kind, he can cover all the ground necessary and say exactly what he intends to say, and in proper form. Mr. Harding has well-improved these opportunities, and the dignity, force, and absence of demagogic appeal and impossible promises in what he says are in illuminating contrast to the harping and reckless attacks and bids, to which such a tour as Mr. Cox's naturally tempts him.

LOCAL TOUCH.
Of course, Mr. Harding loses the benefit of the local touch in many States, which with his winning manner and happy address might be considerable. But it is, after all, doubtful how much of a loss this is. From Mr. Cox's complaints, we may infer it is not in his circle, so great as he thought it would be. He and his supporters anticipated that the effect of his trip would be no threatening that it would drive Mr. Harding into "trailing him," as the phrase is. This hope has not been realized. The only trailing which is being done, is by Mr. Cox.

PILOT CABLE TO GET TEST.

Invention of Los Angeles Man to Have Tryout.

Ships Can be Guided Through Heaviest of Fogs.

South American Nations Ask for Particulars.

By ROBERT H. ARMSTRONG.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—South America may yet beat the United States in the equipment of its harbors with the electric piloting cable by which ships can enter any harbor in the densest of fogs.

Both the Brazilian and Chilean governments have officially requested Earl C. Hanson of Los Angeles, inventor of the system, for plans and details of his device, which promises to be the most revolutionary and helpful of any recent invention in navigation.

E. R. Penay, naval attaché of the Chilean Embassy here, has just transmitted to his government the completed work of Mr. Hanson, and in the next few months it is possible that the inventor will go to South America personally to demonstrate the invention, which is to be officially tested in New York Harbor by the United States Navy Department next week over a fourteen-mile cable laid from Ambrose channel lightship to the Narrows.

PEN POINTS.

Why not consult the outlaws on the Denton mystery?

Help, help, rush the pulmotor to the rescue of the Cox candidacy!

Why don't some of those New York gamblers get after Babe Ruth?

The place to see bull-throats will be at the coming livestock show.

Gov. Cox is evidently trying to make the United States safe from demagogues. But he won't succeed.

The consumption of coffee is increasing with the increase in price. So many of us do not care for third cup.

Will the woman candidate be defeated or a severely tailored model? If she expects to run the skirt model she is not too tight.

Body snatchers are abroad! Somebody has robbed the sarcophagus containing the political remains of Francis J. Heney.

The latest scandal in the appearance of $700 from the safe of the County Jail. They have a lot of thieves in that institution.

When somebody made the statement that Terry MacGrawney was not receiving food from anyone, it must have had his fingers crossed.

If the proposed increase in the local police force will put an end to the man with a straw hat and a revolver, we don't know but it would favor the idea.

It is announced that there will be a reduction in the price of automobiles. This is a tough jolt for the slumbers, paper hangers, electricians and others of the prosperous class.

The high cost of living is a problem that will soon solve itself, is the opinion of good judges. The country is on a sound economic basis and the waves of extravagance are subsiding.

Sixty million dollars is the most sum required to conduct the election of the State of California the coming year. Why not chop off the forty commissions and give the taxpayers a run for their money?

The Cleveland school authorities have issued a ukase against pie eating by the students. It is claimed that excessive pie eating and "pie drinking" are brain depressors. The action is likely to start a little rebellion.

Nothing is sure in politics, but it does seem that the people of this nation had made up their minds to get rid of a headless administration and the incompetency, irresponsibility, extravagance and ineffectiveness of the present force.

In spite of the fact that there are more than 5000 daily arrivals at the island, nothing should be allowed to interfere with the thoroughness of the examinations by the immigration officers. The armies of all nations should be looked after sharply.

Indications point to the abandonment of all hope in the East by the Cox managers and an intention to expend the energies of the national committee in what is to be known as a "Cox-Progressive" movement. That would be a good thing to see if one had a gun.

Gov. Cox must be a perfect third star. We are informed that he has the deep insight of an Elfin Rod the progressive convictions of a Theodore Roosevelt, the idealism of Woodrow Wilson and the high sense of justice of Abraham Lincoln. Oh, shucks!

The revelations of the crooked work in connection with the world's series of baseball games show up the Cincinnati Reds as sure losers if the White Sox is played an honest game. World championship honors bear lightly on the present case.

Gov. Cox says that protesters have run rampant during and since the war, but in making that charge the candidate is expending his indignation on his own party. Until March 1919, it controlled both houses of Congress. It still controls the Executive Department.

In New York a quarter of a million people have been told to get out of their apartments by October 1, unless they are willing to stand for another increase in rent. The figures in that city have reached the cracking point. It is an economic impossibility to pay more in the hands of crooks.

Secretary Cully will hardly draw the ratification by Tennessee of the equal suffrage amendment. To do so and to issue a new proclamation would mean that the pro-secession by a Democratic State would not appear thereon and a Republican State would be substituted instead. Tennessee has ratified since the war. That is enough for Cully.

Wilbur Marsh of Iowa has been supplanted, except as to title, by James W. Gerard as treasurer of the Democratic National Committee. It was unfortunate for Gov. Cox that Marsh, who in his efforts to make the Ohio man and defeat Woodrow Wilson, was the enemy of the party's friends—who happen to be the most contributors to the fund-

VINCENT AGAIN ON HARBOR JOB.

Former Assistant Engineer Re-employed at Port.

Overseas Developments Under Maj. Griffin.

Inspection and Sees Growth of Five Years.

Edward D. Vincent again took charge yesterday of construction and development work at Los Angeles harbor with the title of assistant engineer. He will work under the direction of CHY Engineer Griffin, who under the city charter, is harbor engineer.

The return to the harbor of Mr. Vincent, who was assistant harbor engineer from 1916 to 1918 under the late Mayor Hiram, then City Engineer, marks the continuation of his long fight against the harbor. He will work closely in connection with the Mayor, City Engineer Griffin and other branches of the present administration. The harbor has grown in size and importance since he left the harbor in 1918. He was suggested and the Commissioners appointed him to succeed J. W. Ludlow, who was succeeded by the present harbor engineer.

Company with Maj. Griffin, Mr. Vincent yesterday afternoon inspected the harbor, docks, sheds, warehouses and areas set aside for the storage of new industries which have applied for waterfront space, together with sections of the main and other channels that are to be dredged.

WONDERFUL FUTURE.

"I am enthusiastic over the future of Los Angeles harbor," said Vincent, "and its development will be remarkable. It is destined to be one of the great ports of the world, and the people of Los Angeles should be behind the steamship, and business men who are engaged in business through this harbor." Vincent said that the harbor is destined to be one of the great ports of the world, and the people of Los Angeles should be behind the steamship, and business men who are engaged in business through this harbor.

Mr. Vincent was a member of the great ports of the world, and the people of Los Angeles should be behind the steamship, and business men who are engaged in business through this harbor.

EX-SOLDIER CALLS GIRL A GERMAN SPY.

Witness in Statutory Case Says Complainant Tried to Learn of Troop Moves.

Mrs. Thelma Steinbrenner, pretty blond young matron, admitted to him that she was a spy in the pay of the German government while the World War was on, according to testimony yesterday in Judge Craig's court by O. E. Goodman, formerly a member of the United States Army Signal Corps, who was a witness for the defense in the case of Robert McNat Goodwin, who is being tried on a charge of having committed a statutory offense against Mrs. Steinbrenner, the complaining witness.

While he was stationed at El Paso, Mr. Goodman testified, Mrs. Steinbrenner asked him if he had agreed to telegrams relative to troop movements, and also told him that she was working for a German spy named Frank Hoffman, who was operating in the Mexican border. As a member of the intelligence branch of the Army, said Mr. Goodman, he followed the young woman along the border for some time, but obtained no proof of her activities other than her own story.

She says she is 23 years old, but only 17 years of age, but whose father testified she is 23 years old. She came into prominence in March, 1919, when Mr. Goodman, actor, hypnotist and promoter, dragged her to the police station here and charged her with being a spy.

She made counter-charges that he had kept her locked in his room for nearly a week, and that he had gained undue influence over her by use of hypnotism. Her acquaintance began, she said, when she went to him to take lessons in hypnotism. At that time her husband was serving in the American army in France. Mr. Goodman declares that the statutory charge was made only after he had discovered the girl's infidelity.

A motion to dismiss the case, made by Attorneys John S. Cooper and G. Phillips, was denied by the court, and the trial will be continued today.

WAIT PORT FIGHT VERDICT.

Whether Admiral Rodman and his fleet of dreadnaughts returning from Honolulu "captured" Los Angeles Harbor successfully or were resisted by the defending forces under command of Rear-Admiral Spencer S. Wood, will probably be known today. Late last night many warships, big and little, steamed inside the breakwater and east anchor, but whether they were ships of the defending force or the attacking squadron, or whether they were vessels "crippled" in action, will not be ascertained until today, when all the war boats are back in port and the umpires check up the results of the greatest series of tactical maneuvers on the Pacific Coast in the history of the Navy.

Much interest has been shown in the attack during the past week, but business has proceeded as usual and the wives of the officers on board the invaders seemed more concerned in view of the housing situation in the harbor district, than in the engagement at sea. For several weeks hundreds of officers of the ships, which are to make this their permanent base, have been endeavoring to get accommodations at the harbor, and many have not met with success. Nowhere on the Pacific Coast is the housing situation more serious than for the naval officers who have families.

Somewhere outside the harbor the defending fleet awaited the dreadnaughts all day. The attacking fleet included the flagship New Mexico, the Idaho, New York, Wyoming and Arkansas. The sea up and down crew, who were injured when the balloon exploded, were taken during the day from the Submarine Base hospital to the hospital ship Mercy.

Young Forger Loses Chance of Probation.

Lack of a spirit of frankness and because of a sudden discovery of other wrong-doings, resulted yesterday in W. L. Armstrong falling at the last minute in his application for probation in Judge Willis's court. He was convicted of passing a forged check for $100 and was accused of forging another check for $1905.40 in payment for an automobile.

The defendant informed Probation Officer Dods that he was a college graduate and was associated with several prominent fraternities. As it appeared this was his first offense, it was thought he would probably receive probation.

A report was then received, stating that the defendant had passed a number of fictitious checks in the East and the court sentenced him to San Quentin for from one to fifteen years.

SEND RADIUM BY AIR.

In response to a telegraphic order, the Radium Appliance Company, 146 Bradbury Building, yesterday sent by airplane mail a radium pad to Dr. R. F. Stabs of New York City.

IN MARTYRS' MEMORY.

Wreaths Laid on Graves of Times Men Killed in Blast.

Members of the mechanical force of The Times yesterday paid tribute to the memory of seventeen of their fellow workers who lost their lives on the morning of Oct. 1, 1918, when the Times Building was dynamited and destroyed.

As yesterday marked the tenth anniversary of the killing of the employees, the floral tributes placed on the monument and individual graves in Hollywood Cemetery were more elaborate than on the previous nine occasions. The floral order, executed by Howard & Smith, enabled the representatives of the composing-room, stereotyping-room and proofroom, to practically observe each of the seventeen graves with a profusion of assorted dahlias, carnations, roses and ferns.

BY VILLE DE PARIS.

On Monday the Ville de Paris will begin a week's celebration of its twenty-seventh anniversary. Many novel ideas have been brought forward to add to the individuality of this event. About the pillars of the street floor a clever idea has been developed in the form of inviolable lighted silhouettes showing costumes of the past and present. In the windows and about the store many pieces of apparel bought at the store some twenty-five years ago are shown.

SAYS NO-GOOD CHECK CHARGE ALL MISTAKE.

Protesting that it was all a mistake, W. A. McChase, former head of the Cathered Fruit Company, was arrested yesterday at the Los Angeles Athletic Club by Constables Stensland and Weir on a charge of passing a check for which there were no funds in the bank. The check, it was charged, was for $59 for repairs to an automobile and was said to have been given to Charles J. Pendleton of 221 East Sixth street. Mr. McChase was arraigned before Justice Brown and was released on his own recognizance pending hearing of the charges.

SERVICES TODAY FOR LONG-TIME RESIDENT.

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Louisa Smith, who died last Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph W. Trueblood, wife of the city editor of The Times, will be conducted at the Trueblood home at 814½ Broadway, at 11 a. m. today. Rev. N. L. Rowlett, pastor of the First Congregational Church, will conduct the services. Mrs. Smith, who had lived in Los Angeles for the past twenty-five years, leaves another daughter, Mrs. H. W. White, and three sons, Bert C. Smith, Wilfred E. Smith and Cecil H. Smith.

LETTERS WIN DIVORCE.

"Bessie" Wanted to Help Men Put on His New Gilt Socha.

Burning love letters from "Bessie" to Andrew A. Robins, a soldier, won Florence J. Robins a divorce in Judge Jackson's court yesterday. She testified she found a packet of letters in her husband's trunk and he admitted he had received them. Mr. Robins is said to have met the girl while he was serving in the Canadian army.

One passage in a letter from "Bessie" read: "You are my one and only thought. All my dearest love and kisses."

In another missive she says she will post him a pair of socks. "I know you will love them," she writes. "Wish I could put them on you."

DENIES HITTING WIFE.

Husband Indignant at Charge; She Banged Him with Frying Pan.

Mrs. Mary Thomas Smith, said to be the daughter of John S. Thomas, millionaire contractor of Chicago, told her story of marital woes to Judge Jackson yesterday. She is asking for a divorce from John F. Smith, and among other things declared her husband broke open her trunk. She struck him with a frying pan and he retaliated by hitting her on the mouth.

Mr. Smith indignantly exclaimed he never hit a woman in his life. The trial will be resumed Tuesday.

Woodford, Va.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound and it is so successful in restoring women's health in so many cases. I have been suffering from indigestion, constipation, and other troubles, which act on the system. Women are constantly suffering from these troubles, and it is a sad condition for women. Lydia E. FLASHES.

FRANK MAYO REPEATS.

WILL FILM PLAY MADE FAMOUS BY HIS GRANDFATHER.

By Grace Kingsley.

That poor overworked actor, Frank Mayo, doesn't get a minute's rest from his Universal activities. He had no sooner finished his latest picture, "The Throwback," and had thought he was going to have a chance to do some horseback riding and motoring and swimming, that he had been putting off for a long time, in company with a certain charming young picture star, than leadore Bernstein informed him he wasn't going to have more than two days in which to play hooky.

Therefore, he starts early next week in a picture of the well-known play, "Colorado."

Even after that he is to have no rest, for following "Colorado," Mr. Mayo is to undertake the role of the most important picture he has ever made. This is nothing less than a production of "Davy Crockett," from the story by the same name, and the reason Mr. Mayo feels so serious about this picture is because his grandfather, Sherman Mayo of Pasadena, who retired at her own wish from the presidency, Mrs. Mayo, who is prominently identified with the symphony, has previously been secretary. Her place has been filled by Mrs. Hector Allott.

J. A. Campbell, manager of the organization, stated that the first of the year's concerts will be October 23, at Trinity Auditorium. "We will give twelve symphony concerts, and twelve popular concerts at Trinity, beside a series of Sunday evening concerts at the Hotel."

We have engaged twenty-two additional musicians for the orchestra. The financing of the organization is progressing very favorably.

Star to Take in Sight.

Doraldina, the famous dancer, is going to spend a short vacation, following the completion of "Passion Fruit," her current Metro production, in visiting Catalina Island, Mt. Lowe, Coronado, Sunset Inn, Roscoe Arbuckle's villa and other resorts of interest, which, thus far, she has been in California several months—she has not had time to see.

Arthur J. Englund.

That handsome and rising young actor, with the boudoir name, Arthur J. Englund, who, though but 25 years old, has backed out a new niche for himself in the hard rock of fame by assuming youthful character roles of diverse sorts, has been engaged to play a Spanish role in Norman Dawn's next production for Universal.

Mr. Englund will be seen as a Japanese villain in "Shadows of the West," at 11 o'clock, next week, and he has appeared in some fine characterizations in "A Tokio Siren" and other features.

Formerly J. Englund was with Broncho Billy, but went East to accept a "fine position," according to his family.

When he got there he found the fine position was that of a waiter of corner boxes at $4 per week. So he turned his face right around westward again, and having no money, worked his way out. He labored in various cities at anything he could find to do, including work in railroad yards and in restaurants, until he got back to the land of picture promises.

He was nearly two years on the way across the continent, and Paul Powell gave him his first picture chance.

De Havens are Sentimental.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter de Havens are a sentimental duo. The power of comedy stars are now furnishing their elegant new Hollywood home at Vine and Franklin streets, which has been in the course of remodeling for over three months.

In one of the spare rooms, which will be put in readiness for prospective guests, the de Havens will install the twin beds which were used in the filming of their latest comedy success. Just been completed for First National release.

And the de Havens have selected a gorgeous rug upon which the beds will rest, since, in their opinion, these two pieces of California redwood have most certainly earned a good home.

These beds will serve as the resting place of any married couple visiting them, provided the wife does not view things as did the heroine of "Twin Beds," you remember, namely, that a husband who sleeps alone in his own bed gets to feeling entirely too independent.

Hartford Announces.

Upon the completion of a building at 274 West Sixth street within the next few days, David M. Hartford Productions will move into new quarters. Mr. Hartford likewise announces that work will begin upon his next Associated First National production, "The Golden Snare," almost immediately.

"The Golden Snare" will be Mr. Hartford's third offering under the First National banner, his first being the James Oliver Curwood story, "Back to God's Country," and the second his recent production of the author's "Nomads of the North," which boasts an eight-star cast.

Among the luminaries in the latter production are Lewis E. Stone, Lon Chaney, Betty Blythe, Melbourne MacDonnell, Phyllis McDonald, Gordon MacKenzie, Charles A. Smiley and Spottiswoode Aitken.

Outs in High Seas.

Viola Dana didn't learn to run that motorboat over at Catalina all alone. She had a constant aid and abettor, the services of Antonio Moreno.

Ann May and John Richardson are going to take a long hike in the country next week, but Miss May is going to lead her faithful Pierce-Arrow on a string.

Carmel Myers denies she is wed, but says she has a good mind to get married so people will stop rumormongering.

Re Wally Mac Donald.

Climbing to the dizzy heights of legend in what Wallace MacDonald is busy doing these days. He has just been signed to play the leading role in Edgar Lewis's next feature picture.

Mary Minter's Triple Life.

Talk about your double lives! Mary Minter is leading a triple life in her current production, in which, she is playing three distinct roles. And yet she says she doesn't receive a cent more salary, but has to worry along on her little old $10,000 a week or thereabouts.

Stock Bill to Change.

The bill at the Majestic Theater will change tomorrow night, "Peggy Bahava" giving way to the Henry Miller comedy success, "Parkins." Evelyn Varden and Edward Everett Horton will, as usual, have the leading roles.

Another One Too.

It also happens that the Morocco is to have a new show beginning Sunday this being "The Little Teacher." The production will be made notable by the reappearance of Bertha Mann on the stage at the theater.

Mrs. Dean Mason Heads Symphony.

Mrs. Dean Mason is now president of the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra. The election officers were held Thursday, and plans for the season were discussed. Mrs. Mason fills the executive chair in the organization vice Mrs. Albert Sherman Mayo of Pasadena, who retired at her own wish from the presidency. Mrs. Mason, who is prominently identified with the symphony, has previously been secretary. Her place has been filled by Mrs. Hector Allott.

RACERS AFTER MILE RECORD.

Nine of America's Foremost Pilots in Fresno Tilt.

Chevrolet, Milton, Murphy Among the Entrants.

Automobile Enthusiasts Flock to New Speedway.

FRESNO, Oct. 1.—Automobile racing enthusiasts from all parts of California are gathered here to witness the 300-mile race tomorrow afternoon that will christen Fresno's new mile motor speedway. Nine of America's foremost race drivers will start for a purse of $10,000.

THE SPEEDWAY.
The speedway, which was only completed a week ago, is the only one of its kind in the country and the race tomorrow will establish a new set of records for mile tracks. With the turns banked at an angle of 45 degrees the drivers have been able to speed around the oval at rates in excess of 100 miles an hour and experts believe that the new records will be set close to that figure, if not above it. In the trials on Thursday the drivers made records of 100 miles an hour and better.

THE RACERS.
The racers have been practicing daily and tonight announced that they were fully acquainted with the track and ready for the flag. Gaston Chevrolet, Tommy Milton, Jimmy Murphy and Ralph Palma, who rank in the order named in the national A.A.A. 1920 championship contest to date, are among the entrants. Edie Barnes, the national A.A.A. 1919 champion, is also entered. The other three are Rocco Barthe, Bennett Hill and Joe Thomas.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED BY DOCTOR.

Glendale, Oct. 1.—Mrs. C. W. Perkins has had asthma so seriously that respiratory failure has been frequent and often nearly fatal. Last night, seeing that death was imminent unless heroic measures were used, Dr. R. E. Chase, the attending physician, called the Glendale Fire Department to send a pump motor. Unsuccessful in obtaining the appliance, a firm of local undertakers was summoned with its machine.

OLD KING COLE IS SURE THERE.

Portside Slips Over Nine Doughnuts on Tigers.

Houck Has a Lapse in the Fourth and Ninth.

Baseball Game is Featured by a French Duel.

BY ED O'MALLEY.
Old King Cole was a merry old soul at Washington Park yesterday afternoon. He didn't call for anything but a smoke and a drop (we don't mean what you mean) and with them he easily defeated the Tigers. Cole pitched effectively throughout and had the Bengal scalp dancing on his hip at the end of the game. He was maddening from a Vernon viewpoint, and of the four hits he allowed, three were of the scratchy-scratch order.

LOBBES CUNNING.
Houck daltied with the horseshoe for the Bengal. He put up a glittering article of ball in seven of the nine innings. In the fourth and ninth, however, he lost his cunning for a moment and let the Bengal have a few hits. In the fourth, he let the Bengal have a few hits. In the ninth, he let the Bengal have a few hits. In the fourth, he let the Bengal have a few hits. In the ninth, he let the Bengal have a few hits.

WALSH BOOMED.
Walsh boomed his one to Houck, who snared it, the easiest thing you know how. Houck's error was a double, but Kamm struck out. After Alcock and Fisher had singled in the latter half of the ninth, Houck's error was a double, but Kamm struck out.
